COOLIDGE ALONE IS IDLE

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The great American political classic of 1924 is approaching its day of decision in a shower of sharp words and a fog of rival predictions.

In its final stages it has brought into play all the old familiar stratagems, modernized to fit an age of radio, movies and sensational investigations, and laid out on a new scale to appeal to every remote subdivision of the ever-growing American electorate.
The last day of active campaigning finds most of the principal

Frank Klivis and Frank

in probate court and were released on $1,000 bond each.

Frank Klivis, 30, and Frank Yukusky, 31, who gave their address as 1305 S. Main-st., were captured in a running battle in a dense woods north of the Illinois Pipe Line plant in Adgate-rd at 9 a.m. Saturday by a posse of four deputy sheriffs, led by Al
Smith and Sam Oeban.

The two foreigners were endeavoring to plant two gallons of alleged corn whisky in the woods when they were surprised by the deputies, who came upon them unawares.

Shots were fired as the two men broke and ran toward the outhouse end of the woods, where a large car owned by Klivis was parked in Adgate-rd.

As the bullet from the officer's gun whistled past their ears Yukusky and Klivis, realizing the deputies meant business, halted in their tracks. They hurled their alleged intoxicants at adjacent trees in the hopes of destroying them as evidence. Klivis was successful, the jug he threw being shattered.

my utmost to make my position its highest development.

For, incorporated in the Rollin chassis are many important mechanical achievements, new engineering accomplishments, and outstanding features, which place upon it the undeniable stamp of excellence.

The world has long waited for a highly refined motor car that could be purchased at a reasonable price. And while the market offers many attractive low-priced automobiles, we do not believe there is a car in this, or any foreign market, that for its price, or anywhere near its price, has so many advanced engineering developments as you will find in the new Rollin.

ROLLIN CARS ON DISPLAY AT OUR SHOWROOM

25 to 30 Miles Per Gallon

It gives to the Rollin the astonishing ability to deliver 25 to 30 miles per gallon of gasoline, without any "lazy" point between high and low throttle.

With the absence of both vibration and limp there is a resultant velvety smoothness in motor operation which makes the Rollin unique.

Rollin connecting rods are drop forged aluminum alloy. Pistons are deep skirted, split at the skirt to compensate for expansion, fitted with four rings above the pin, and are also manufactured of light weight aluminum alloy possessing unusual strength and toughness.

The Defeat of Vibration

Elimination of weight and balancing of connecting rods and pistons are further features which contribute a full measure to the non-occurrence of vibration over the full range of motor speed.

Prevention of "motor limp" is accomplished thru the special manifold which Mr. Rollin White has developed during more than twenty years' devotion to four-cylinder designing. It insures an equal distribution of gas to all cylinders and promotes an increase in gas turbulence, which permits highly perfected combustion and remarkable economy of motor fuel.

Walsh Charges J. P. Morgan & Co. Underwrote Fund

STATEMENT TO BE ISSUED

Senate Committee to Report to Voters Before Election

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—In an analysis of evidence placed before the Senate campaign fund investigation, Frank J. Walsh, counsel for Senator LaFollette, declared today it had been shown that at least seventy-five per cent of the Republican contributions reported to date "have come directly from the representatives of great corporate interests."

Upon the basis of the data now made public, it is said, it can be stated as a fact that the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. has underwritten the Republican campaign fund.

The LaFollette attorney declared further that "even more shocking in the circumstances that contributions are listed from numerous individuals directly interested as defendants in anti-trust suits, prosecutions for fraud upon the government, and persons directly interested in tax refund cases, oil leases, flexible tariff adjustments, and other proceedings now pending either in the courts or the executive departments at Washington."

ADJOURS

With its hearings which have been conducted concurrent with those in Chicago, adjourned until after the election, the committee investigating campaign funds made preparation today to give the voters a preliminary statement on its findings before they go to the polls.

Chairman Walsh announced before leaving Chicago, where he has been conducting one section of the inquiry with Senator Shipstead of Minnesota, the Farmer-Labor member, that the investigation would be resumed after the election, when he thought "we can get at such facts as will be available to us on the subject in an intelligent way."

Senate Bureau also called upon the Democratic and LaFollette-Wheeler members to furnish the committee of Washington reports of their receipts and expenditures up to the close of business Thursday (time for publication before the election). William V. Hedges, the Republican national treasurer, presented his official report yesterday, saying contributions had amounted to $3,742,982, of which $2,942,682 had been retained by the national committee to finance the presidential, senatorial and congressional campaigns, while the remainder had been returned to state organizations for which the committee acted as a collection agency.

POSSE ARRESTS TWO MEN

Scene by a report from a resident of Adgate-nd, who told of seeing a high powered touring car drive up at high speed to the entrance of the pumping plant.

Two armed men carrying several heavy packages got out of the car, hurried across the road and disappeared into the woods. Deputies were told of the suspicious behavior of the two, the observer called at the sheriff's office. Smith, Osborn, L. C. Rice and a fourth officer responded and reached the scene in 10 minutes.

While one of the posse waited at the pumping plant where the two men had parked their auto the others entered the woods from both sides and soon came upon Kish and Yukusky.

Two men were hiding near the north end of the big woods close to the Ohio Steel foundry plant.

At the time the posse came upon them, they had been unable to secret the whisky. It is believed, because several small bows with a dog were hung in the woods.

Following are the troops ordered mobilized and reported to be uniformed, armed and waiting in their armories for orders to move to Niles.

12th engineers of Cleveland, 147th infantry units from Cleveland, Berea, Canton, Akron, Watson and Youngstown.

137th field artillery.

Three battalions from Canton and Akron.

Two cavalry units from Akron and Youngstown.

Approximately 1,100 troops are in the units ordered mobilized by Governor Donahay, and several citizens were preparing to confer.

Two men were hiding near the north end of the big woods close to the Ohio Steel foundry plant.

At the time the posse came upon them, they had been unable to secret the whisky. It is believed, because several small bows with a dog were hung in the woods.

The officers hurried the two men back to Adgate-nd, where they were identified as the two men seen to leave the car and enter the woods.

They were brought to Lima and lodged in the county jail to await arraignment before Probate Judge Jesse H. Hamilton.

The case was consolidated, and probably will be sold at auction under a court order, if the owners are convicted.

Charles G. Davis, who has borne the brunt of the foreseen battle for the Republican ticket, will close his campaign tonight at South Bend, Ind., after having followed his famous dipper pipe across many states. Governor Charles W. Bryan will wind up in his home state of Nebraska after a speaking trip that has taken him over much of the western country, where his name for many years has been a political institution.

Senator Wheeler, the only one nominated on any of the three tickets to carry his campaign all the way to the Pacific coast, will conclude it with a night meeting on the Atlantic seaboard in New York City.

ALL SATISFIED

From all three camps today there issued the usual pre-election expressions of absolute satisfaction and unbound confidence. Each group insisted most emphatically that its particular candidates had not been weakened by evidence produced before the state campaign fund investigators, who each appeared quite convinced that the casualties among the opposition would be heavy.

Meanwhile the committee members, having adjourned their hearings both in Washington and Chicago, assembled here to draft a statement for submission to the voters before election day.

The final figures on campaign contributions have not yet become a matter of record, but to date the Republican total stands far in the lead, approaching $4,000,000.

With the three-cornered presidential fight stilling the eve of the election, the congressional campaign has had to take a back seat from the start, and seems likely not to come into its own until the returns begin to roll in on Tuesday night. Interest in it has been further localized by a variety of unusual bi-partisan combinations in the respective states. What may be the result of that tangled no one seems able to predict.

The Republicans and Democratic maneuverers today made their usual claims to overwhelming victory, but it is evident that whatever it is, it is not to be made known to the state department of public works.

LINCOLN, Neb.—Having toured most of the eastern part of Nebraska in the campaign and western towns and cities this week, Governor Bryan, Democratic candidate for vice president left early today by automobile to speak in Lincoln.

COLUMBUS—A special committee of the Grafton village council will make an investigation to determine whether it is sufficient to care for the needs of its citizens and provide a supply for the proposed new state capital for the Isaac M. Hopper.

Frank McDermott, 19 year old son of one of the leaders in the movement to stop the parade, who was shot three times early this morning, is the victim of the first clash in the community feed. His assailants escaped in the automobile from which they fired.

Spokesmen of the klan interpreted the attack on their partisans as reprisals for the shooting of McDermott, and declared they would be prepared for further violence.

Prior to the attack on the robed automobile passengers, whose identity was not revealed, Chief Rounds described the city as "ominously quiet."

PERU TO ADOPT U.S. CUSTOMS

President Leguia Plan Rail Development in Country

NAVY IS REORGANIZED

Sanitation Measures Adopted in Health Program

WASHINGTON — (By United Press)—Augusto B. Leguia, President of Peru, was inaugurated on October 12th to succeed himself. It is understood that President Leguia will continue the policies which have characterized his previous administration.

These policies are chiefly: To promote the economic development of Peru; to solve in a harmonious manner the unsettled international problems of the country, chiefly relating to boundaries; and to encourage friendly relations of Peru with the American people.

The life career of President Leguia as a statesman has been marked by signal success. He was engaged in business until he became Minister of Finance in 1903 at which post he served until 1908. His efforts largely accounted for the doubling of Peruvian revenues. He was selected president in 1908, serving to 1912, and again became President in 1919.

The progress of Peru in this last quarter century is indicated by the fact that exports which were $2,450,000 in 1900 had increased in 1930 to $119,745,335; while imports in the same period increased from $11,585,000 to $70,651,000.

The President's chief concern, it is said, is to equip the country with the railways necessary to tap the rich trans-Andean region. Every year the entire proceeds of the tobacco monopoly are devoted to railway construction. In 1931 $1,500,000 was spent on extensions and new construction in 1932 $2,050,000, and in 1933 another three million dollars.

FREE BANK

The establishment of the Peru in Reserve Bank in 1922 with a capital of $10,000,000 constitutes one of the most important measures affecting the financial and economic future of Peru.

Revision of the Mining Code, making it one of the most liberal in any country; and revision of the Civil and Penal Codes are other important reforms which have been accomplished by the Leguia regime.

In the field of international relations President Leguia has undertaken to solve boundary controversies which have existed since the Colonial times. In that period Spanish power was centralized in Spain and all but one of the countries which now are independent neighbors of Peru were dependents, practically governed from Lima, thru Governor-General appointed by the Spanish Crown. It is natural that when the colonies later achieved their independence there should have been differing interpretations of the royal decrees which defined their boundaries.

President Leguia has sent missions after mission to neighboring countries with instructions to secure some settlement of these differences by an impartial arbitration. Protocols have been signed with Colombia and Ecuador for treatment of boundary questions and the long-standing controversy with Chile regarding the fate of the provinces of Tacna and Arica has been submitted to President Coolidge for arbitration. Peru and Brazilian commissioners are delimiting their respective frontiers in accordance with the provisions of the Velarde-Rio Branco treaty, negotiated by the late Ambassador at Washington, Hernan Velarde, when sent to Brazil. The boundaries with Bolivia were settled by a mixed commission appointed under the Polo-Bustamante treaty.

HEALTH SERVICE

President Leguia, according to his press, is a great believer in the preventive and in American public and modern methods. He has called upon the health service for help in many ways.

The Peruvian Navy is organized by an American in 1923. The Revenue Department was created for revision to an expert. Dr. W. W.

Over 20 instructors were engaged in the work and sent to public colleges. A contract for paving, sanitation and supply in the principal cities of Peru was allotted to a company which is engaged in the work. A corps of Americans, including Americans, is great irrigation project.

The Health Service was organized under direction of an American, Dr. Henry Hanson. He contracted for a shipbuilding and drydock for Chincha Islands. He went to an American and Leguia also has engaged Peruvian young men of study in the United States.

Improvements and reforms have been accomplished very limited budget, the figures, for example, are only to about forty cents.

COOLIDGE ENDS CAMPAIGN

Except for Radio Address, President Has Finished

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Except for the address he will deliver by radio from the White House Monday night, emphasizing the duty of citizens to vote, President Coolidge has concluded his participation in the campaign.

He had few engagements today and tomorrow he expects to remain at the White House after attendance at church services in the morning.

Except for numerous visits from party leaders throughout the campaign and several conferences with William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, the president has confined his political activities almost exclusively to an occasional address. In these, however, only governmental affairs were discussed and no direct reference to the election of either of the opposing parties was made.

Coolidge's attitude on political issues relating to administration of the government were summed up in his speech accepting the nomination and in the address he delivered here last week before the eastern division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Wednesday night a session will be devoted entirely to the young people of the district, more than 350 of whom are expected to attend to hear a talk by Dr. Ernest C. Wareling, of Cincinnati, editor of the Western Christian Advocate. Preceding the night session the young people will hold a banquet.

The ministers of the district, numbering 45, will hold a round table Thursday afternoon, with Bishop T. S. Henderson, of Cincinnati, as chairman. Preceding the round table Dr. F. M. Swinehart of Findlay, and Rev. D. N. Kelly, of Grace church, will give talks.

Closing session of the conference will be held Thursday night, starting at 6 p. m. with a big banquet for the district brotherhood. More than 600 members of the brotherhood are expected at the banquet, which will be presided over by John L. Sullivan, well-known newspaper man of St. Marys, who is president of the brotherhood.

Bullets Won the Ballot

YOUR ancestors were slaves. And you don't have to go back far in history. They may not have been actually put up on the block and sold to the highest bidder. But they were slaves of their rulers—without any voice in how they were to be governed.

Bullets won the ballot for you. It took much bloodshed, centuries of dogged effort, before the common people obtained the power to rule themselves.

The Kissing Habit

Chinese and Japanese do not kiss. But American movies will start this delectable custom in the orient, predicts Lillian Eichler in her new book, "The Customs of Mankind."

That's plausible, and probable, even tho it does strain the imagination to picture the emotionless poker-faced Chinks practicing the art of osculation.

Lombroso long since claimed that kissing is an occidental custom exclusive to America and Europe. However, we never could shake off a notion that even in China the lovers must instinctively kiss in private. Scientists say not.

In this dry and desolate age, when the punch bowl is legally taboo and marriages are supposed to be celebrated by drinking tea, strawberry pop or ice cream sodas, it is a comfort to many to look back to the golden age when—

In ancient northern Europe married couples drank mead, a high-power wine made from fermented honey, for 30 days after the marriage ceremony. This came to be known as the "honey month." That is the origin of the word "honeymoon," says the writer.

The bridegroom got his name from the custom of his having to wait at table on his bride—taking the place of the regular servant, a groom. This symbolized devotion and submission to his loved one.

That famed institution, the big wedding cake, had a very practical origin. A French cook observed the custom of serving individual little cakes to the hundreds at a wedding would be more convenient if the cakes were concentrated into one mass.

The marriage ceremony in ancient days was often fantastic. There are primitive districts of the world that still preserve the system by which a man and woman were considered married as soon as they ate out of the same dish.

Rice is thrown after the departing married couple because of its being the oldest symbol of productiveness.

Six hundred years ago in France, Lillian Eichler records, "It was considered a lucky thing to win the bride's garter, and everyone rushed for it at the conclusion of the ceremony. Brides wisely left one garter dangling where it could easily be reached, but nevertheless they were often hurt in the struggle. So some wise bride conceived the idea of throwing her bridal bouquet."

German Business

A business boom in Germany is expected soon by the world's leading bankers and business men. But experts say it'll be some time before this boom takes the form of huge exports of German-made goods in competition with American and other wares.

Germany's industrial slump was chiefly due to the decline in the German people's buying power. They are so far behind in buying things they need that they stand ready to absorb nearly the entire output of the German industry. But she'll show up later in the world markets on a powerful scale.

He has ceased crying, and is now laughing. On with the dance. Our kiddies have discarded such antics as gates in the bonfire, chairs from a block away on others' front porches, tickles, up-

REMARKABLE RECOVERY OF MRS. SPINK

Gives Lydia E. Pickford's Vegetable Compound Full Credit

Minocqua Junction, Wis.—"I was under treatment but nothing could help me. I was run-down and weak that I had to remain in bed much of the time and was like an invalid. I had pain in my abdomen and in the female organs, and my strength had gone. I had lost my appetite and could not eat. My husband, Mr. Pickford, gave me Lydia E. Pickford's Vegetable Compound and I thought it must be good, and brought it to me and advised me to try it. After taking one bottle I was able to eat, and after six bottles I was doing my own work, which I hadn't been able to do for years. I have a new baby who is doing nicely, and I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and feeling better than I have for four years. The medicine is surely wonderful and a good thing to have in the house."—Mrs. GEORGE SPINK, Minocqua Junction, Wisconsin.

A country-wide canvas of purchasers of the Compound reports 98 per cent. benefited.

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Stock prices gave an other impressive demonstration of strength in today's market. Buying was influenced by the favoring tenor of the weekly mercantile reviews, the abundance of money and the buoyancy of sterling exchange. There was a tendency in some quarters also to regard the day's movement as discounting the result of the presidential election next Tuesday. Commercial Solvent issues were features, the A. stock jumping nine points and the B. seven, each at new 1924 high prices. Other strong spots included General Electric, Loosse Wiles second preferred, American Type Foundries preferred, and American Zinc preferred, up 2 to 4 points.

The closing was strong. Sales approximated $500,000 shares. Operations for the rise continued at today's opening with buying orders spread over a wide list of rail and industrial shares. American Can mounted a point to 138 3-4, with American Smelting and Lowe Wiles Biscuit reaching high levels for the year. Standard Investment issues, such as Atchison, were in demand. Activity of the southwest rail shares was a prominent feature of the early trading. Missouri Pacific preferred and "Katy" working into new high ground for the year. General Electric, opening three points higher, led an advance in the specialties which embraced the Commercial Solvents issues. United Fruit, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, United Drug and Loosse Wiles Biscuit, all up a point or so. U. S. Steel and Baldwin moved within narrow limits and no significant changes took place in the motors or oils. Katy preferred and Cast Iron Pipe sold at 1924 top prices, together with International Cement, Iron Products, American Radiator and Walldorf System. Sterling led an upward movement in the foreign exchanges mounting more than a cent to above $4.54, the highest price in several months.

PRODUCE REVIEW

SWIFT & CO. — Movement of poultry continues quite liberal, causing lower selling price. The present high prices in the market, however, are slow.

It is noticeable that some healthy condition is indicating that the condition is originating on the farm. The dealers will necessarily have to make a reduction in the price they pay for such stock. Producers should therefore be very careful in buying poultry unless it is in good condition.

The live market has advanced rapidly and indications at the present time, the present high prices being due to the fact that consumers are slow.

Butcher markets have advanced approximately three cents in the last week and seem to be in a healthy condition. The price of the meat is high, and the cost of the meat is being asked of consumers to pay for the continuation of export shipments. It is to be hoped that the market will help materially in reducing the surplus stock in the next few months.

Current wholesale distribution of goods is up and exceeds all that was done a year ago for the same period.

Shows for current fall shipment showed an increased increase over a week ago and about the same last year. There were more cuts than in market than in 1923 for the same period. Collections were not equal to the corresponding per-

TOURISTS VISIT WHITE HOUSE

Records Broken During Past Summer Months

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — With Congress out of session, the White House was the main attraction for the thousands of tourists who journeyed here this season.

Empty chambers and absence of bitter oratorial outbreaks, which draw capacity crowds of visitors to the Capitol building which harbors the Senate and House, was responsible for the White House garnering increased attraction.

The majority of visitors who come here have but a day or two to take in the many sights the national capitol offers. When Congress is in session, they usually spend one or two days at the Capitol. Once seated in the gallery of either the Senate or House they are reluctant to leave. Hence, they devote virtually their entire stay at the Capitol and only obtain a flying glimpse, if any, of the Executive Mansion and its environs.

The favorite sport of sight-seers this season has been to stand outside the White House door watching a close view of President Coolidge. On cabinet days, Tuesday and Friday, many visitors gather about the Executive Offices to watch the President's official family come and go. Secretary of State Hughes is about the only member of the cabinet who is recognized. The State department head is identified by his famous whiskers. The identity of other members of the cabinet is revealed only when the guard at the door shouts for their automobiles.

All records for visitors were broken at the White House the past summer. From ten in the morning to two in the afternoon, the period of inspection, a steady stream of tourists passed thru the Mansion.

The number of tourists who shook hands with the president averaged a little over 100 daily.

After this date I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by anyone other than myself.

will appear on the non-partisan judicial ticket, a candidate for his second term as Judge of the Court of Appeals. Judge Hughes has been the presiding judge of our Court of Appeals for the past two years. During this time his court has disposed of more cases than ever before in its history in a like period, and our docket is cleaned down to fewer undisposed of cases than it has ever had. In a number of the sixteen counties comprising this district, there are no cases at all on the docket. Judge Hughes deserves the vote of every citizen who believes in the fair, honest and speedy administration of justice without fear or favor. He was born and raised in Allen county, is our county's only candidate for this office, and is a good judge.

Good Want Ads Are Money-Savers For Landlords

Quick action is necessary when rooms are to be rented. Each day of vacancy robs the landlord of the rent money that he should be getting. It is therefore foolish to invest in inefficient advertising methods simply because they are cheap. Action is what is needed, and only the best methods can find tenants promptly. Lima News Want Ads, bringing prompt action from room seekers, produce profits for landlords.

Mrs. Mary Haller, 215 E. Spring St., used this News Want Ad a short time ago when she wished to locate renters:

SPRING ST. E. 215—TO RENT—TWO rooms, large back porch; for light house-keeping; no objection to children; reasonable. Box 401.

"The results were wonderful," she said.
"I received replies to my Want Ad for nearly two weeks after the last insertion."
